Jam Packed With Key Ingredients To Boost Your Cat's Health

Chicken

Provides high-quality protein that is essential for a cat's growth. It is highly digestible so it's perfect for cats with sensitive stomachs. It also contains amino acids to ensure optimal health. Chicken is rich in vitamin B6, which is important for brain function and immune health.

Eggs

Eggs are a source of protein and contain essential amino acids for good health. They are also rich in vitamins and minerals like vitamin D, vitamin B12, and selenium, which support overall health and well-being. Additionally, eggs can help promote healthy skin and a shiny coat in cats.

Fish

Fish contains omega-3 fatty acids, which support a healthy immune system and reduces inflammation. It also provides protein and essential amino acids for strong muscles and healthy skin and it's rich in vitamins B12 and D, which support brain function and bone health.

Lentils

Lentils are a great source of protein, fiber, and essential nutrients. They contain antioxidants and are low in fat, making them a healthy addition to a cat's diet. Additionally, lentils can be easily digested by cats who may have grain sensitivities.

I am amazed at how much my cat's health has finally improved

"My cat has been on Simply Feline for a year and I'm amazed at the results. His coat is shinier and he is more active. I highly recommend Simply Feline to any cat owner looking to give their furry friend the best."

Finally found cat food that my cat, Rosie, loves all day long

"I've tried many different types of cat foods for Rosie. She's a very picky eater but I am glad I found something she loves. As a cat owner, I feel good knowing that she's getting all the essential nutrients she needs to stay

I am impressed by my cats improved energy levels all day long

"I recently found Simply Feline and even after 2 months I can see a huge difference in their coats and overall energy levels. It feels good to know that their health and wellbeing are taken care of plus my cats love the taste too!"

"GIVE YOUR CAT THE BEST possible nutrition."
